OMAX 40X-2500X 5MP USB3 Darkfield Trinocular LED Lab Microscope for Live Blood

The M837L series compound microscope is a class leader offering professional features at an affordable price. This darkfield version provides an additional observation method to enhance contrast when viewing certain low-contrast specimens including unstained live cells. Along with the microscope's standard condenser and objective lenses used for brightfield observation, a specialized darkfield condenser and 100X variable-aperture lens are included. Viewing Head The trinocular viewing head has a ...
